When Camila Coelho made the decision to move her life and business from Los Angeles to Miami, she had one big goal in mind: motherhood! The Brazilian-born top beauty influencer and entrepreneur is no stranger to change or big dreams; but for Coelho, becoming a mother was the biggest dream of all.

With her popularity at an all-time high, Coelho launched the Camila Coelho Collection (CCC) in 2019- a namesake fashion brand, immediately followed by an all-natural skincare line, Elalux, during the Pandemic with her husband, Icaro Brenner. While timing proved risky for the venture, Coelho and Brenner successfully rode the wave, delivering their seasonal collections as scheduled and their highly-anticipated skincare line to Sephora as planned. Sales have been strong ever since.
